Payment Policy

We accept checks and purchase orders from Universities and other known Professional or Educational Institutions and Businesses. Orders from these institutions will be processed immediately and will not wait for confirmed payment.

We discourage personal checks from individuals, and will not mail orders until checks are cleared. There is a $30 fee for returned and/or bounced checks. Individuals are encouraged to order online by Credit Card or PayPal at <http://www.reformactivismdesign.com/store> for faster processing.

Return Policy

Returns are generally not accepted unless the merchandise is defective. Our films are formatted to be viewable in all zones, but if for some reason your DVD does not play correctly in an international zone, please let us know.

Shipping Policy

We mail most of our orders using USPS standard First Class mail. It usually takes about 3-5 days for mailing in the US, plus several days for processing and handling the order. The total shipping time for online orders is about 7-10 days. If you choose RUSH shipping for an extra fee, we will overnight your order through USPS, ASAP. These orders may also take a couple of days to process, and thus should arrive generally in 3-5 business days. International packages usually take 10-14 business days.

Licensing and Screenings:

The purchase of a “DVD for Personal Use” of Design as a Social Act entitles the purchaser to use for their personal collection only. It may not be held in a public or institutional library. If you would like to put this film in your public library, please purchase our DVD for Libraries and Institutions. If you are a teacher, professor or other professional and purchase a DVD for Personal Use, you may use the DVD to have a showing in your classroom, office, or home that does not charge entrance fees. With the personal use DVD, you are not licensed to have publicly advertised screenings unless you purchase the institutional copy or a screening permit from RAD.

The purchase of a “DVD for Libraries and Institutions” of Design as a Social Act includes a license for limited screening rights. We allow non-profit and academic institutions to hold screenings at their institutional events so long as they do not charge entrance fees, and we are given proper acknowledgement of our intellectual property rights: i.e. our names are included in the promotions and/or the credits are rolled at the screening, etc.

If you are interested in holding for profit screenings or charging entrance fees to your screening, you should contact Reform by Activism and Design to negotiate licensing fees.
